The General Assembly of North Carolina recognizes and declares:

The concern for the purity and life-giving qualities of our environment is of primary interest to every citizen of North Carolina and to all Americans.

The quality of our environment depends upon the management of the air, water, and land resources upon which our lives depend.

The ultimate responsibility for the health, safety, and welfare of the citizens of North Carolina rests upon the State government.

The environment of every state is affected with local, state, regional, and national interests since ecological systems cross state boundaries.

The discharge of this responsibility of environmental protection can be enhanced by acting in concert and cooperation with other states and with the federal government.

Pinpoint keys are set in the left margin of the text rather than line numbers: subsection designators are stable across editions and paper sizes, line numbers are not.

Provenance

This document reproduces the text of one section of the General Statutes of North Carolina from a source file whose SHA-256 digest is printed on every page. The digest fixes the bytes this export was made from; if the State's file changes, the digest will not match.

The text of the section is unaltered. Subsection designators have been moved from the run of text into the margin. The amendment history and the table of authorities are derived from the section by mechanical extraction — they add no characterization of the law.

This is not the official text. The official text is published by the General Assembly of North Carolina.
