General Statutes of North Carolina, as published by the General Assembly	No amendment history on record	21 September 2026, 03:28 UTC	6daa6d3e8221e4b7936de91e - d548762861e27506db5c0c8d - a6853dda5c0a79f9

When the conversion takes effect:

The converting business entity ceases its prior form of organization and continues in existence as the resulting domestic limited partnership;

The title to all real estate and other property owned by the converting business entity continues vested in the resulting domestic limited partnership without reversion or impairment;

All liabilities of the converting business entity continue as liabilities of the resulting domestic limited partnership;

A proceeding pending by or against the converting business entity may be continued as if the conversion did not occur; and

The interests in the converting business entity that are to be converted into interests, obligations, or securities of the resulting domestic limited partnership or into the right to receive cash or other property are thereupon so converted, and the former holders of interests in the converting business entity are entitled only to the rights provided in the plan of conversion.

The conversion shall not affect the liability or absence of liability of any holder of an interest in the converting business entity for any acts, omissions, or obligations of the converting business entity made or incurred prior to the effectiveness of the conversion. The cessation of the existence of the converting business entity in its prior form of organization in the conversion shall not constitute a dissolution or termination of the converting business entity. Provenance

This document reproduces the text of one section of the General Statutes of North Carolina from a source file whose SHA-256 digest is printed on every page. The digest fixes the bytes this export was made from; if the State's file changes, the digest will not match.

The text of the section is unaltered. Subsection designators have been moved from the run of text into the margin. The amendment history and the table of authorities are derived from the section by mechanical extraction — they add no characterization of the law.

This is not the official text. The official text is published by the General Assembly of North Carolina.
