If a principal makes a revocable offer of a commission to a sales representative, the sales representative is entitled to the commission agreed upon if:

The principal revokes the offer of commission;

The sales representative establishes that the revocation was for the purpose of avoiding payment of the commission;

The revocation occurs after the principal has obtained a written order for the principal's product or service because of the efforts of the sales representative; and

The principal's product or service that is the subject of the order is provided to and paid for by a customer.

Provenance

This document reproduces the text of one section of the General Statutes of North Carolina from a source file whose SHA-256 digest is printed on every page. The digest fixes the bytes this export was made from; if the State's file changes, the digest will not match.

The text of the section is unaltered. Subsection designators have been moved from the run of text into the margin. The amendment history and the table of authorities are derived from the section by mechanical extraction — they add no characterization of the law.

This is not the official text. The official text is published by the General Assembly of North Carolina.
