General Statutes of North Carolina, as published by the General Assembly	No amendment history on record	21 September 2026, 04:16 UTC	11f66c97669b08402040b0ef - d9ad4ed8fa3720bc22e31ae5 - 54ccd363823c2076

- § 90-21.45(a)

At the trial of an action under this Article, evidence of the client's sexual history is not admissible unless:

(1)

The psychotherapist requests a hearing prior to trial and makes an offer of proof of the relevancy of the sexual history; and

(2)

The court finds that, in the interest of justice, the evidence is relevant and that the probative value of the evidence substantially outweighs its prejudicial effect.
- § 90-21.45(b)

The court shall allow the admission only of specific information or examples of instances of the client's conduct that are determined by the court to be relevant. The court's order shall detail the conduct that is admissible, and no other such evidence may be introduced.
- § 90-21.45(c)

Sexual history otherwise admissible pursuant to this section may not be proved by reputation or opinion. (1998-213, s. 1.)

Provenance

This document reproduces the text of one section of the General Statutes of North Carolina from a source file whose SHA-256 digest is printed on every page. The digest fixes the bytes this export was made from; if the State's file changes, the digest will not match.

The text of the section is unaltered. Subsection designators have been moved from the run of text into the margin. The amendment history and the table of authorities are derived from the section by mechanical extraction — they add no characterization of the law.

This is not the official text. The official text is published by the General Assembly of North Carolina.
